Guanacaste unfolds from the volcanic highlands of northern Costa Rica to a rugged Pacific coast, its rare tropical dry forests threaded by rivers and alive with monkeys, iguanas and colorful birdlife. Choose from six- and eight-day itineraries that reveal this remote region from its forested interior to its secluded bays and rocky shores. Hike amid the geothermal wonders of Rincón de la Vieja National Park, explore protected waters by Zodiac and kayak, and venture into habitats shaped by ancient volcanic forces. Along the way, discover the distinctive character of a province rooted in ranching traditions and warm hospitality.

Highlights

- Explore Guanacaste's rugged Pacific coast and venture into wildlife-rich national parks and protected areas
- Experience the region's diverse tropical ecosystems from every angle—by kayak and paddleboard, on foot and by zipline through the forest canopy
- Unwind on the palm-shaded beaches of Isla Tortuga, enjoying refreshments and hors d'oeuvres
- Discover the volcanic landscapes of Rincón de la Vieja National Park, where steaming vents and bubbling mud pots rise amid forests alive with monkeys and colorful birdlife

Day by day

■ DAY 1

San José, Costa Rica / Puerto Caldera / Embark Ship

Arrive in San José this afternoon and transfer to Puerto Caldera, Costa Rica's principal Pacific port. This evening, embark the ship and set sail on your Central American journey.

Before your voyage, you may choose to enjoy an immersive glamping experience in the remote Caño Negro region , including a visit to Tenorio Volcano National Park and an introduction to the traditions and cuisine of the Maleku people.

Arrival Time: Arrive before 1:00 p.m. local time.
Arrival City: San Jose, Costa Rica

Meals included: dinner

◇ DAY 2

Gulf of Nicoya

Explore the Gulf of Nicoya, a vast, island-dotted estuary, where sheltered waters, forested islands and mangrove-lined shores sustain abundant marine and birdlife as well as traditional fishing communities. These extensive wetlands serve as vital nursery grounds for fish and crustaceans and offer a rich setting for discovering the region's wildlife, scenery and coastal culture.

Learn about efforts to restore mangrove habitat in areas once altered by sugarcane cultivation, shrimp farming and salt production. By reopening tidal channels and allowing native mangroves to regenerate naturally, large-scale projects have rehabilitated more than 700 acres—helping revive fisheries and wildlife habitat, protect important "blue carbon" ecosystems and engage local communities in their stewardship.

Meals included: breakfast, lunch, dinner

◇ DAY 3

Papagayo Peninsula

Drop anchor off the remote Papagayo Peninsula, where dramatic volcanic headlands shelter secluded beaches and quiet coves. Tropical dry forest blankets the landscape, providing habitat for howler monkeys, coatis, iguanas and abundant birdlife, while rocky reefs and rich marine life lie beneath the clear coastal waters.

Conditions permitting, explore Bahía Huevos, a protected bay edged by sandy beaches and forest. Swim, snorkel or kayak in its sheltered waters; search for wildlife on a nature walk; or venture by Zodiac into nearby mangrove-lined waterways.

Meals included: breakfast, lunch, dinner

◇ DAY 4

Santa Rosa National Park / Guanacaste Conservation Area

Spend the day exploring Bahía Santa Elena, a protected marine area bordered by Santa Rosa National Park and the Guanacaste Conservation Area. Its striking, undeveloped shoreline provides important breeding habitat for dolphins, whales, sea turtles, whale sharks and rays. National Geographic Quest and National Geographic Venture are the first and only expedition ships to anchor here since the park was established, and your visit supports the surrounding communities and the continued protection of this remote wilderness.

Explore by Zodiac or kayak, hike a trail created specifically for our expeditions and, conditions permitting, swim or snorkel in the bay. As you venture out, watch for great kiskadees, orange-fronted parakeets, mangrove hawks and colorful ringed kingfishers.

Meals included: breakfast, lunch, dinner

◇ DAY 5

Rincón de la Vieja National Park / Hacienda Guachipelin

Journey inland to Rincón de la Vieja National Park, part of the Guanacaste Conservation Area. Forests cloak the slopes of two active volcanoes, where bubbling mud pots, steaming vents and other geothermal features reveal the powerful forces shaping this mountainous landscape.

Choose from several ways to explore: Hike through a transition zone where tropical dry forest meets temperate cloud forest, watching for mantled howler monkeys and white-throated magpie-jays; swim beneath Las Chorreras Waterfall after a short forest walk; or soar through the canopy by zipline. Later, gather for a poolside lunch at Hacienda Guachipelin featuring fresh ceviche.

Meals included: breakfast, lunch, dinner

◇ DAY 6

Hacienda El Viejo Wetlands / Playas del Coco

With the ship anchored in Bahía Coco, travel inland to Hacienda El Viejo, a historic working hacienda and private wildlife refuge bordering Palo Verde National Park. Cruise the Tempisque River through one of Costa Rica's most important wetland ecosystems, watching for crocodiles, monkeys, iguanas and a remarkable variety of resident and migratory birds.

Discover the role of sugarcane in Guanacaste's rural heritage and follow the rum-making process from the extraction and cooking of fresh cane juice to fermentation, distillation and barrel aging. Conclude with a guided tasting before returning to the ship for lunch.

This afternoon, explore Playas del Coco, a former fishing village now known for its lively seaside atmosphere. Stroll the waterfront promenade and browse its restaurants, cafés and shops.

Meals included: breakfast, lunch, dinner

◇ DAY 7

Curú National Wildlife Refuge / Isla Tortuga

Explore Curú National Wildlife Refuge, Costa Rica's first private national wildlife reserve, set along the Nicoya Peninsula where the wetter forests of the south meet Guanacaste's drier landscapes. Follow forest trails in search of white-faced capuchin monkeys, turquoise-browed motmots and scarlet macaws. With luck, spot the elusive northern tamandua, a primarily tree-dwelling member of the anteater family.

Return to the ship for lunch as you cruise toward the offshore islets collectively known as Isla Tortuga. Relax on a palm-fringed beach, then celebrate the finale of your Guanacaste adventure with refreshments and hors d'oeuvres ashore.

Meals included: breakfast, lunch, dinner

■ DAY 8

Puerto Caldera / Disembark Ship / San José

Disembark in Puerto Caldera and drive to the airport in San José for flights home.

Departure Time: Depart after 12:30 p.m. local time.
Departure City: San Jose, Costa Rica

Meals included: breakfast

The National Geographic Venture is a state-of-the-art expedition ship ideal for discovering remote locations in domestic waters.

Following the build of National Geographic Quest at Nichols Brothers shipyard, her sister ship, National Geographic Venture, floated into the bay on Whidbey Island, Washington, becoming the 4th ship in the Lindblad fleet built at this storied shipyard. In the 1970s, Nichols Brothers built the twin ships National Geographic Sea Bird and National Geographic Sea Lion, which continue to sail the waters of the west coast of North America and Central America.

National Geographic Venture, like much of the wildlife she follows, is migratory. She follows the seasons from Alaska, along the coast of British Columbia, up the Columbia and Snake Rivers and along the Baja California coast. In each region, her design innovations were informed by 50+ years of expedition expertise to ensure extraordinary discoveries. National Geographic Venture's shallow draft enables her to provide intimate 'insider' experiences of the charismatic regions we explore.

Like her sister ship National Geographic Quest, National Geographic Venture has dual boarding platforms. Enabling our team to load two Zodiacs at once means guests get off ship quickly to take advantage of wildlife sightings and maximize exploring time. Modern and clean-lined, with large expanses of glass to keep you connected to the extraordinary views, National Geographic Venture enables you to see, do and experience the best of her geographies.
